Long Range Bombers Blast Jap Transports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.

Roaring hundreds of miles of the Tulagi area, long-range American army bombers today are attempting to blast holes in Japanese reinforcements columns which appear to be moving relentlessly southward for another attempt to oust U. S. forces from the Solomons. This was the consensus of naval analysis based on the navy's latest communiqué which disclosed the presence of fresh Nipponese transports about 500 miles northwest of Tulagi area and reported that U. S. Flying Fortresses scored at least three hits on the enemy ships.

Attack Jap Transports

"On Sept. 24 army bombers attacked a force of enemy transports near Shortland Island, in the western Solomons," the communiqué said. "This attack was opposed by about twenty Japanese fighters. Three hits were scored on the transports and one enemy fighter was shot down."

At the same time, the navy stated that marine patrols on strategic Guadalcanal are continuing their

Rationing Plan In Effect On Eastern Coast To Be Followed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.

The office of Price Administrator Leon Henderson today pushed plans to start nation-wide gasoline rationing in November after rubber czar William Jeffers issued an official order instructing the OPA to dole out four gallons of gasoline a week to non-essential passenger car drivers throughout the country.

Jeffers, in his first official directive since he left the presidency of the Union Pacific Railroad to accept the job as the nation's rubber director, ordered the OPA to institute "nation-wide gasoline rationing on the same basis as the gasoline rationing program existing in the 17 eastern states."

He set no date, saying:

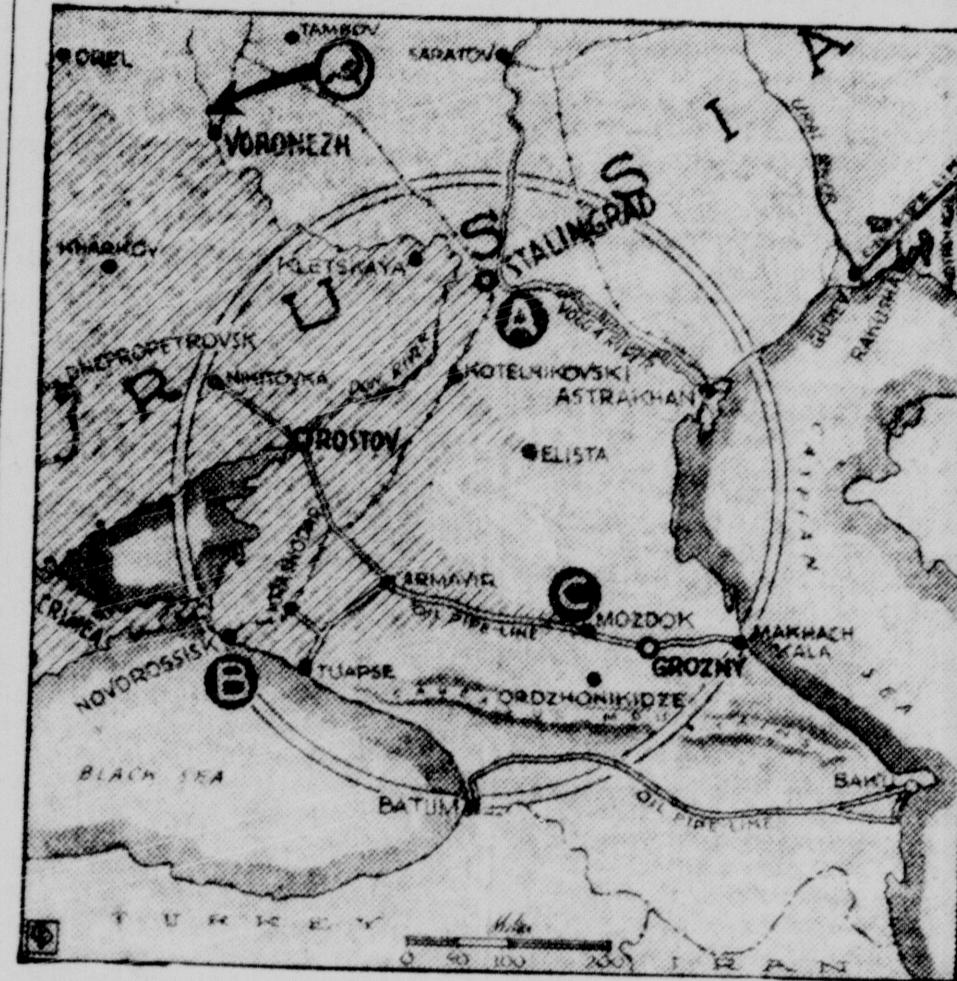

"It is impossible, of course, to get this program under way immediately in all its phases in every state."

May Start In November

It was learned, however, that the OPA hopes to have ration books printed and the nation's motorists registered by early November. Most

Germans Hit Soviet Stonewall

Thousands of German soldiers are dying as the Nazi generals hurl their divisions against the bitterly resisting defense lines of the Russians on the southern Soviet front. At Stalingrad (A) the lines sway back and forth from house to house and street to street, but the Germans for days have failed to make any large gains. Likewise, around Novorossiisk and Mozdok the German advance has slowed to a crawl. Meanwhile, northwest of Stalingrad, at Voronezh, the Soviets are pressing their own offensive to relieve the Nazi pressure further south.

MOSCOW, Sept. 26.—German forces, relieved near exhaustion after being thrown backward for the third consecutive time, drove again today in what may be a last desperate stab at victory.

Ranks thinned by terrific casualties inflicted by the rampant Soviets, German troops were making a furious effort to block Russia's powerful counter offensive northwest of Stalingrad and themselves regain the initiative.

Savage fighting raged both on the bloody approaches and within the city's charred outskirts as 1942's most tempestuous struggle reached evening of its 33rd day.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—With Gestapo headquarters among the buildings hit, great success was reported by the air ministry today in the raid yesterday by British bombers on the Norwegian capital of Oslo.

It was the first attack upon this city in more than a year.

Nazi headquarters were attacked at the same time. A Nazi party meeting was in progress, the air ministry said. Reports received by way of Stockholm said that Puppet Premier Vidkun Quisling was making an address at the time. He and his Nazi colleagues and their bodyguards scurried for the nearest bomb shelter.

Returning pilots said they bombed the Gestapo building from an altitude of only 100 feet. A number of hits were seen clearly. One British plane was lost.

A Reuter dispatch quoted an Oslo broadcast as saying that when the party rally was resumed today Quisling took occasion to refer to the attack as having been carried out by "R. A. F. murmur planes."

Details of the raid from the Oslo point of view were sought eagerly, but heavy censorship imposed by Quisling and his Nazi underlings made it difficult.

Assails Price Control Administration

Sen. Ellender

Senate Prepares For Showdown On Anti-Inflation Bill On Monday

FARM PRICE BATTLE IS STILL RAGING

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

(U.S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Administration of the price control act was assailed today by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D., La.), as the Senate readied itself for a showdown Monday in the farm price battle on the anti-inflation bill.

Declaring that the price law has been "rottenly administered," Ellender charged that in one instance the OPA had fixed a ceiling price on a farm product nearly one-third of the cost of production, thus threatening producers with bankruptcy.

Aroused by criticism of Price Administrator Leon Henderson, Senate leaders sought to assure members of the farm bloc that the farmer will get a square deal in administration of the proposed new act for stabilization of both prices and wages.

Administration leaders claimed that they were sufficient votes to adopt a compromise for the farm bloc amendment which would readjust parity prices upward by inclusion of all farm labor costs. The compromise directs the president or the price fixing authority to raise ceiling prices when it is found that farm labor costs have risen.

Democratic Senate Leader Barkley, it was learned, plans to make a statement to the Senate Monday saying that Henderson will administer the law as written, and will order increases in ceiling prices on farm products to take care of increased farm labor costs. Senate leaders hoped that this would further quell the "farm bloc" revolt against the bill designed to meet the president's demands for all-out anti-inflation authority.

maua, 190 miles north of Port Moresby, also were harassing the enemy.

The communiqué said that the Australians, supplied with munitions and food dropped by Allied planes, counter-attacked the Japanese after first being forced to give ground southwest of Mubo, 12 miles below Salamaua, and in furious hand to hand combat drove the Japs from the position they sought to occupy.

"The position remains in Allied hands," the communiqué said.

Artillery In Use

Announcement of the employment of artillery which fires 25-pound projectiles with the deadliness of fabled French 75's came as heartening news to Australians and brightened hopes for an Allied victory over the Japs as stunning as that in the Milne Bay area where a major enemy landing attempt was frustrated.

ing in the Owen Stanley range along which the Japs have been advancing from their base at Buna toward Port Moresby are lending full support to the aggressive patrols sorties by mountain commandos.

Furious strafing and bombing attacks were pressed by Allied planes all along the Kokoda mountain track employed by the Japanese as a supply line and one end of the vital Wairopro bridge was demolished in a dive-bombing attack, the communiqué revealed. Three direct hits were scored.

Storage huts, containing munitions, food and other supplies, were set afire by the strafing attacks.

Allied heavy bombers, seeking to knock out the source of Jap supplies, again blasted the airfield and dispersal area at Buna on the northeast coast of Papua. An enemy bomber was destroyed on the ground and anti-aircraft gun positions were silenced.

PLANNING FOR NATION-WIDE GAS RATIONING

likely dates for starting gasoline rationing, it was said, are November 15 or 22. Rationing of motor fuel started in the 17-state shortage areas in the east on July 29.

Jeffers also urged a nation-wide speed limit of 35 miles an hour. Pending official rationing and legislative acts cutting speeds, Jeffers called for voluntary conservation of gas and tires declaring that every citizen "is a soldier in this rubber war."

Under the eastern rationing plan, the average non-essential driver is allowed an "A" coupon book giving him about four gallons of gas a week for a total mileage of 2,880 miles a year. More essential drivers are given "B" books allowing 5,640 miles a year, while essential motorists such as doctors or nurses are allowed "C" books covering needs over that amount.

Review Situation

After the eastern—four gallons a week plan—is instituted in all states, Jeffers ordered the office of defense transportation headed by Joseph B. Eastman, to "review the program from the standpoint of its effects upon the transportation service of the nation." The review, it was explained, could conceivably lead to more liberal gasoline rations in cities where public transportation facilities are inadequate. On the other hand, the review, it was pointed out, could also result in cutting of gas rations.

The nation-wide gasoline rationing under the eastern system will affect only passenger cars—not the 500,000 trucks and commercial vehicles. The latter will be governed by an ODT plan for so-called "mileage rationing." Under it, every truck owner will be forced to obtain "certificate of war necessity" from the ODT by November 15 in order to operate.

In issuing the certificate, the ODT will stipulate how many miles a year that the truck can operate. The latter will govern how many gas coupons the truck owner will receive.

Presence of the transports in the western Solomons indicated that the Japanese are moving reinforcements and supplies from their principal mid-Pacific base of Truk within striking distance of the Tulagi area.

Once these reinforcements are set to strike, it was believed that strong units of the Nipponese fleet would sweep around the Solomons for another attempt to retake the Guadalcanal airport and other bases which were captured by American forces nearly two months ago.

Federal Structure In Beaver Falls May Yield Critical War Materials

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The old unoccupied Federal building in Beaver Falls may be demolished in the nation-wide drive to salvage ferrous metals and other critical materials to meet war needs, it has been announced by the Federal Works Agency.

Government engineers are making a check of the Beaver Falls building to determine whether the amount of metals and other salvage material obtainable from the structure would justify its demolition.

If the survey shows that the amount of scrap obtainable would make destruction worth while, the Government will proceed to tear down the building.

GERMANS MAKING NEW ATTACKS ON RUSSIAN DEFENSE

the Germans back on one sector and occupied an advantageous position.

Some 600 Germans were slain in the course of the latest Soviet advance, the high command said.

Within Stalingrad itself, where the Nazis earlier were ousted from a vital section of the beleaguered city, fierce tank and hand-to-hand battles continued without let-up.

Numerous additional tanks were destroyed and many more Nazis killed when the Soviet defenders repulsed the assaults of the invaders in bitter street fighting, the high command said.

The Germans northwest of the city continued to launch counter-attacks in a desperate attempt to halt the growing Soviet threat to their northern flank, but all of their efforts have been crushed and great losses inflicted on Nazi troops, according to the communiqué.

On another sector, the communiqué related, "our troops pressed the enemy back and occupied advantageous positions, killing 600 Germans."

Russian forces in the mid-Caucasus area were reported holding firmly against repeated Nazi tank and infantry assaults around Mozdok. Numerous Nazi troops were said to have been slain in relentless engagements in this area.

Annihilate Rumanians

Southeast of the fallen Black Sea naval base of Novorossisk, it was said, the Russians annihilated a battalion of Rumanian troops.

The Moscow radio reported, meanwhile, that 800 Germans were killed in one day's fighting in a sector of the Voronezh front 325 miles northwest of Stalingrad.

There the Nazis were said to be throwing in fresh groups of troops in a mad effort to find a weak spot in Soviet defenses.

The new advance by the Russians northwest of Stalingrad brought the total of Germans killed in this sector alone to more than 2,100 in the last 24 hours.

Nazi commanders hurriedly rushed in waves of reserves and bolstered their tank and air forces in a futile attempt to quell the spirit of Russian forces.

In one large-scale engagement, the high command said, 12 large German tanks were destroyed, a score of big guns knocked out and action and numerous prisoners taken.

Using Huge Tanks

A Stockholm dispatch to the Daily Mail in London reported that the Germans now are using monster 92-ton tanks at Stalingrad, several of which already have been smashed by powerful Soviet land mines.

Battling in still another sector outside the city resulted in the slaying of a full company of German troops and the destruction of five tanks and two armored cars.

Inside the bomb and shell-scared city, the high command said, Soviet troops recaptured a "valuable position." Details were not given in the communiqué but considerable significance was attached to the wording of the announcement since heretofore Russian successes within the city itself appear to have been limited for some days to the ousting of Germans from individual buildings.

Field dispatches indicated that the major onslaught northwest of Stalingrad was relieving Nazi pressure on the city sufficiently for the defenders inside to begin pushing the invaders back.

Advices reaching Moscow said that the German command had been forced to divert tank forces and masses of infantry from the street battles in Stalingrad to combat the Russian threat to their northern flanks.

Nazi air forces and artillery batteries joined with German reinforcements north of the city in the anguished struggle to stem the Soviet tide which has driven them back several miles in some sectors and forced them to retire from strategic heights and nearby villages.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

JEALOUSY OF ADOLESCENTS

WE WERE visiting, several years ago, a family we had known for years. We had known the oldest child in that home since she was a little girl, and had always thought of her as a lively, active, interesting child. At the time of our visit she was sixteen. She had a little brother of three.

Well, what did we do? As we entered that home we did what most people do: we found that lad attractive, and we began talking to him. Adults don't seem to know how to act toward children. If we just follow our impulses we are generally wrong. We met the daughter. She just responded with a few words and stood back, with nothing more to say.

Parents Unaware

Throughout the dinner hour the little lad was talkative. The father and the mother were much interested in their son and were not at all conscious of what was happening. When we went home that night we almost at the same time began talking about the girl, wondering why she was so different. We concluded that the cause was jealousy. Her brother was everything; she was nothing.

A few years later this girl went away to college. She got along well, received some distinction in her classes, came back, was met by old friends. We saw that child on her vacation and a more attractive, charming personality, I think I never have seen. The difference was most wonderful! Why? She got more attention, almost no reminders of her inferiority; she felt she was somebody. She had got letters from home; she was succeeding, doing something which reminded her of her importance.

A student of mine one time told me about a sister of 13. Said she, "My sister, we fear, is developing insanity." "Did you talk with a psychiatrist about her? Why do you think that?" "Oh, if we leave her alone with the baby sister of three, she will slap her and pull off her hair."

A Sudden Change

"That is strange; have you ever thought of jealousy?" I asked, and pointed out the apparent suffering of the older daughter. A few months later the student reported that her sister was all right and had changed completely. Something happened in the meanwhile. An aunt from the far west had visited the family.

"She has been all right since my aunt from the west visited us. I do remember her saying to my sister, 'Why, the baby is just the image of you,' and I remember how she beamed." That was enough, even though it was a mere accident.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Are there good books for a youth to read who desires to have good mental health and a forceful personality?

A. Yes; a selected list of such books may be had without cost by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

The World and the Mud Puddles

A LARGE JOB

The government has taken a long step in development of its concentration-of-production program by the appointment of four members of the War Production Board to that special duty. Impetus will be given the program when two WPB experts return from England, where they have been studying how the British do it.

What Britain has done, and what we propose to do, is to simplify and standardize the production of civilian goods in a limited number of plants. This is expected to reduce the use of essential raw materials and also to free many employees for war production. We have already ventured into this field in the manufacture of bicycles, but they have been studying how the British do it.

Remember, day after day, un-damned even when his sailors mutinied, threatening to put him in chains or throw him overboard, Columbus wrote in his log:

"This day we sailed westward because it was our course."

He arrived. So can you!

After a guy was refused two spoonfuls of sugar to put into his coffee in Philadelphia he threatened to pour his cup of coffee into the big sugar bowl. The police must have been called about that time.

If we hear about the way the people of Germany are suffering it would surprise us if something hit Hitler where it would do the most harm unto him.

A conceited man, or a politically ambitious one, makes a mighty poor school teacher.

Any projection of this program must be made with caution. In the compact United Kingdom the task is not as complicated as in our large country. Small business, which is already threatened with extinction, faces a new danger. Towns independent upon a single industry may suddenly find themselves without a factory of any kind. Retailing will necessarily be circumscripted. There are many other potentialities.

I am frankly dubious about results, but this is a war program that most certainly looms in the offing. The WPB officials who will have it in charge must administer it wisely on the results will be tragic.

Words Of Wisdom

The most illiterate man who is touched with devotion, and uses frequent exercises of it, contracts a certain greatness of mind, mingled with a noble simplicity, that raises him above others of the same condition. By this, a man in the lowest condition will not appear mean, or in the most splendid fortune insolent—Johnson.

The youngsters have started back to school and they don't have to study what Adolf, Benito or Hirohito have written for them.

A national lottery to raise $6,000,000,000 for the war has been proposed, but slot machines would certainly be able to top this figure.

An escapist is one who yearns for the good old days when the foremost problem before the nation was whether a high or low tariff was best.

It is to be noticed that Hitler never admits that it is possible for Germany to lose the war unless the people bend every effort toward winning it. He knows that if he even hints he isn't infallible the people may wake up and sell him down the river.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:52. Sun rises tomorrow 6:52.

Authorities in Washington still think there are too many people traveling on week ends in trains and busses. They always will until they cannot do it.

Notice in a Kansas newspaper: "Positively no more baptizing in my pasture. Twice in the last two months my gate has been left open, and I can't afford to chase cattle all over the country just to save a few sinners."

When statisticians get through figuring the time lost on all business operations, they can begin to figure the time lost in figuring statistics.

CONSIDER COLUMBUS

The man who fears criticism is lost. In Heaven's name, if you think you've got a better way of doing your job than the present one, rally your sleeves and give that way all over the country just to save a few trout.

Little minds will carp. Those whose mental horizons are limited by backfire commonplace will be duly shocked and tongue-loosed. They will try to retard your progress. They will lie about you. They will paint your character, aims and purposes in colors to harmonize with their own diseased imaginations. But the very venom they put into such things will prove a poison to their own minds and hearts instead of a detriment to you.

When the world has kicked you hard enough, and often enough, you will develop a certain callousness to pedal urges. This is the "saving grace" of every man who has ever attempted to do anything. Don't worry about the critics. Set your own pace and your own goal; make sure that you are striving for something worth striving for and then rally.

Remember, day after day, un-damned even when his sailors mutinied, threatening to put him in chains or throw him overboard, Columbus wrote in his log:

PRECOCIOUS CHILDREN

Just as I like to be feminine and boys to be masculine, I like children to be childish—to "be their age" at least. I just had tea with an old schoolmate whose bright hopeful, about 12 sat staring at all of us through his horn-rimmed spectacles, contradicting our opinions of screen stars, radio talent and war problems.

Of course, his fond mama sat by doting and gloating. "Oh, see what a smart boy have I," her eyes proclaimed.

Self-confidence plus concentration makes millionaires.

Judge—But you admit you were going 75 miles an hour, don't you?

Speeder—Yes, your honor, but—

Judge—Well, man should pay as he goes. You're fined $75.

Reforms require power; and when a man gets the power, he never reforms himself out of a job.

Nothing infuriates the opposition like the winner's tantalizing indifference to criticism of his dirty methods.

Roosevelt knows what he is doing. The more he coddles Labor, the more he keeps John L. Lewis from taking over.

The government now has 2,200,000 civilian employees—1,000,000 making red tape and 1,200,000 unwinding it.

A bird in hand is also worth on the plate. You can gnaw off so much more meat.

Mind away back when we used to pick apples "on the shares?" Looks like we are getting back to that, too.

IT'S THE STYLE

I'm sure that Adam must have laughed.

When Eve went first on dress parade,

And thought her just a little datt.

To wear that thing of fig leaves made.

And later, when the style was changed,

I'm certain Adam had to grin.

To see the way she had arranged

A covering of rabbit skin.

All down the ages men have mocked

At garbs their women chose to wear;

And some with laughter loud have rocked,

But never women seemed to care.

They pay no heed to smirk or grin

Or what is said behind their backs;

Else how could females, fat or thin,

Walk round about the town in slacks?

If Army and Navy must be handicapped by a shortage of hemp, let's save a few strands for the men responsible.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By ERICH BRANDOIS

Undoubtedly many of you have thought of going into a nice business, away from the tumult and rush of the city—somewhere where it's quiet and peaceful, somewhere where to do it's safe, where there is little to do and money to be made.

I know I have hoped for such a chance many a time. So naturally I was much intrigued by a classified advertisement I just saw.

It's headed, "For Sale: Security and Soundness."

And what is it? One of the famous caverns in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia—the largest and most magnificent of all the caverns is now owned by a man who is growing old and would sell at a reasonable price."

It's an unsurpassed investment, says the ad. The upkeep is small, says the ad. Every visitor is a press agent, says the ad. In addition to the caverns, there are ample farm lands available for surface cultivation of crops and livestock, says the ad.

I'm interested in something everlasting, address Box —, says the ad.

I closed my eyes and pictured myself sitting among my stalactites and stalagmites. I could hear the drip, drip, drip of the eternal waters and the click, click, click of the turnstiles.

I saw myself proudly looking over my livestock and my corn and my wheat.

I stood at the gate and smiled at the endless procession of cars rolling down the highway, every tenth or twelfth car stopping to visit my cavern.

What a life! The fulfillment of a man's dreams.

But wait a minute. If we stopped day-dreaming about the gold mine in the cavern and applied an equivalent amount of imagination to the job on hand, we could

Express Packages Seized By District Attorney

Seized as it was being delivered to the consignee at the Railway Express office, a consignment consisting of 3 large pasteboard boxes and a suit case full of Silver Shirt literature, notes of testimony of the trial of William Dudley Pelley in North Carolina, a volume devoted to metals and alloys used in planes, and other documents are in the hands of District Attorney L. K. Donaldson today.

The consignment was seized Friday afternoon as the consignee, Victor Hove, of Produce street, took the packages, the district attorney says. The shipper is listed as A. W. Finehouse, of Indianapolis, Ind. Questioned by District Attorney Donaldson, Mr. Hove said that he did not know the sender of the packages nor did he know their contents.

Considerable personal effects were found in the packages. A suit of clothes, a hat with half a dozen lumps of sugar in it, some underwear, a pair of lady's gloves and an atomizer were found. In the suit was found an empty purse with an identification card in it made out to V. Cherep-Spiridovich. Other papers show him as Lt. Gen. V. Cherep-Spiridovich, Count, Aeronautical Research Council, 9 Sheriff street, New York, N.Y.

A constitution and by-laws for the Council are in the collection and a volume of typewritten sheets giving details of military planes, metal alloys, modern magnesium alloys and the like.

One volume is a collection of type-written editorials by J. C. Francis written for the column "Kaleidoscope" a column which ran in "Publicity" a Silver Shirt paper, it is announced.

Response Of Citizens In
"Buy a Bond" Drive Has Exceeded Expectations

MIDNIGHT SHOW
TICKETS READY

Lawrence county's patriotic citizens answered the appeal to buy bonds in a manner that far exceeded the expectations of the committee in charge of the "Buy a Bond for Every Mother's Son in the Service" campaign, and as a result, there are no white tickets left today for the first showing of "Wake Island" at the Penn Monday night.

But that is not halting the sale of bonds, and the second show, starting at midnight, is certain to play to a big audience also, as many purchasers last night took these second show ducats and were happy to get them.

A goal of $50,000 had been set for the current week's sale at the theaters, banks and post office where the tickets were being distributed, and this figure has already been exceeded.

Chairman Clarence M. England spoke yesterday at the Johnson Bronze Co. plant, where workers were addressed over the inter-department loud speaker system, and his remarks were enthusiastic.

This afternoon the Liberty Bell will be in the uptown district and this evening will be at the State theater on Long avenue, where those buying stamps or bonds will be given an opportunity to ring the bell for freedom.

RICH HILL NOTES

Byers Wilson was serving as a juror at New Castle this week.

Mrs. J. M. McConnell is visiting her son, Everett McConnell, and family of Harlansburg.

Mrs. K. K. McCreary called at the home of E. G. Reiber of Lakewood on Thursday afternoon.

The Y. W. C. A. has had an enviable record through four wars. It was born in England as a result of the need of nurses returning from the Crimean War and as a result of the needs of women who took men's places in the factories during the Civil War. It had an honorable record of service in the first World War with Signal Corps Girls in France, as well as recreation for the camps. It tried very hard to stop the coming of a second world war through plans for a world organization, but having failed to stop war, it will do its best to help win this struggle for freedom for all people.

Y. W. C. A. leaders are being asked to register before Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James McConnell and son, Keith, were Sabbath dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conman of New Wilmington.

Mrs. J. I. Baker of New Castle R. D. 4 and Mrs. Fred McGee of Plain-grove are guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. Sherman McConnell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Conman have returned from Pittsburgh where they spent several days visiting relatives and friends and attended the reunion of the Kniss family.

Recent callers at the McCreary home were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grandy of Ellwood City, Mr. and Mrs. Glen McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. George Bender, and Mrs. C. H. Bender and daughter, Joanne, of New Castle.

When an ancient city died, another was built on top of it, so the top one covered several buried ones, like civilizations in Washington.

Two things the people desire: (1) an official voice to inspire them; (2) that all other officials shut up.

Bethel Church Revival Continues

Revival meetings, scheduled to close September 27 at Bethel United Brethren church, will continue another week through October 4.

Evangelist Billie Smith is preaching every night with Eddie Moyer as the evangelist in charge of special music. There will be services every evening at 7:30 o'clock, including tonight and next Saturday evening.

The pastor, Rev. R. D. Bomer announces that there will be a Sunday school rally this Sunday.

Two things the people desire: (1) an official voice to inspire them; (2) that all other officials shut up.

New Castle Spatters Beaver Falls, 26-0

Lee Pilots 'Canes To Third Victory Before 10,120 Fans

Gunn, Lee And Currie Visit Pay Dirt As Local Smoothies gain Second Class AA WPIAL Triumph; Falls' Offense Thoroughly Checked; Lee Is Stopped Twice In 23 Running Attempts; Piles Up 134 Yards Through Scrimmage; Bridenbaugh Varsity Line As Tough As Defenders Of Stalingrad.

Guided by Bobby "General" Lee, who operated behind a line that performed like Maelzel's metronome, an exceptionally versatile New Castle high team advanced closer to the Class AA WPIAL football championship by spattering a brave Beaver Falls contingent, 26-0, Friday night at Taggart stadium before 10,120 amazed patrons.

In registering their third successive V and relegating the valley "Tigers" to the defeated row, the unbeaten "Hurricane" warriors played impeccably. Defensively, the home town athletes flashed no-hit no-run form. New Castle's first touchdown sprint, in the final two minutes of the opening session, covered 50 yards with Lee tucking Massey's long boot on the midstripe and slipping on the Falls' 29. Lee then exploded through right tackle to the 38 and subsequently rifled an incomplete to Zubkowski on the 27.

Currie followed by slipping past left end. Massie prevented a score with an ankle low tackle on the 28. Gunn and Lee collaborated on line backs, getting to the 21. On the heels of Lee's incompletely heaved to Zubkowski, Gunn bulldozed over center to the 15. Lee was stopped for the first time on a fake reverse, losing 2.

The ancient Statue of Liberty pose, with Lee posed with the ball and Currie taking it, pushed the oval to the 5. Genkinger's block highlighted the play.

It's Gunn Again

Gunn hurried over center twice, getting within a foot of the pay window. Gunn's third center plunge didn't miss. Rousou added his ninth conversion of the season and the last scoring incident of the evening.

Williams, who substituted before the kickoff, recovered Bricker's fumble on the Falls' 29 as the third period ended. Additional local reserves made their appearance. Lash coming in at full, Lee and Lash reached the visiting 13 but the attack stalled with the "Tigers" taking extra point.

Their spirits undaunted, the Lawrence countians took the kickoff on their 30. On a series of off tackle and line plays, the red and black eleven reached their 47. Jack Grubisa then shot a short pass over center to List. He in turn lateralized to Dick Navarro who broke loose for 50 yards and a touchdown. Miller's extra point boot missed by a couple of inches.

The more than 3,500 spectators were electrified by the showing made by the Class B opponent, Joe Simari, Johnson, Grubisa and D. Navarro played superbly for Bessemer.

Last week, Bessemer jolted Greenline, a Class A foe.

Lee Is "It"

He tossed that first quarter aerial to Burris on the 16 and followed by amazingly digging to the 1, the play before Gunn scored. He tallied and executed an important supporting role in the final touchdown. In brief, he was "it" offensively, in capitals.

Gunn, in chalking up 54 yards through scrimmage and playing superbly on defense, showed a sparkling brand of football. Russ "Ranger" Currie, destined to lug the ball merrily in the third period, was a sight to behold. Pete Tedesco blocked immaculately and was wide open on defense.

As for the line, take a gander at the statistics. The varsity Bridenbaugh wall permitted the visitors into local territory only twice, just inside the 45. The boys up front were as tough as the defenders of Stalingrad.

Beaver Falls ran into one of those nights when things just won't click. The "Tigers," nevertheless, provided first class opposition. Bricker, Tate Anderson and Earley flashed fine form.

Triumphant in the first two of five Class AA battles, New Castle next jaunts to Sharon, Friday night, to face Sharon high.

Shenango Blanks Zelienople Eleven

Pete Moran And Fruitt Cross Pay Zone In 18-0 Triumph Friday

LOCALITES DISPLAY VAST IMPROVEMENT

Checked for two quarters, a valiant Shenango Township high team unfurled a vicious second half attack that netted the East New Castle athletes a well deserved 18-0 triumph over a game Zelienople high eleven. Friday afternoon on Shenango field.

Fruit grabbed the third quarter kickoff and returned to the local 35. With Moran, Kitko, Stitt and J. Adamczyk chewing off substantial yardage, mostly through the center or the visiting wall, Shenango penetrated to the Zelienople 2. Pete Moran plunged across for the first six-pointer.

Moran Over Again

In the same period, Stitt set up a scoring chance by intercepting a pass on his 40. The Shenango backs also shared in an unstopable onslaught that carried to the invaders' 25. Zelienople, however, checked the drive. The Butler countians fumbled and Fruitt recovered on the Zelienople 10. Moran dashed over the final stripe.

Fruit again played the chief role in the final touchdown when he camped at a Zelienople pass on the visitors' 23. Aided by a perfect block by Frank Adamczyk, Fruitt skittered over the final line.

Shenango's line showed marked improvement and choked the Zelienople running game throughout. The entire Nahasbach coach ball trucking department glittered.

Kistucic starred for the losers. Left End Szaklyhyde was an impressive lineman throughout.

Next Friday afternoon, Shenango journeys to Hopewell to face Hopewell high in its third struggle. Shenango boasts a win one and lost one mark for the season.

Stimson Cancels Louis-Conn Bout

Orders Boxers To Return To Posts When He Learns Details

LOUIS OFFERS TO FIGHT FOR NOTHING

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—As Mike Jacobs today began making preparations for the return of cash paid on orders for almost $300,000 worth of tickets for the cancelled 14-round Corn fight, the promoter disclosed that in a telephone conversation which he had with Louis, the heavyweight champion had offered to "fight for nothing."

Although he already stood to lose $15,000 which he spent for advertising, printing and staffing of the fighters' camps, Jacobs said he would match the Brown Bomber's generosity by promoting the fight himself and turning over all proceeds to the Army Relief Fund. He said the offer was now being considered by the war department in Washington.

JACOB'S IS SILENT

Concerning the unexpected cancellation of the championship bout, by Secretary of War Stimson yesterday, Jacobs had little to say.

"I was merely acting for War Boxing, Inc." he declared.

Bums Fight On; Defeat Boston, 5-4

Brooklyn's Only Hope Is To Win Two While St. Louis Drops Pair

WHITE SOX DOWN CLEVELANDERS, 8-1

By JACK MAHON

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The desperate Brooklyn Dodgers, the fingers of one hand crossed in a long distance hex and the others clenched into a rock-like fist, moved into Philadelphia today to continue their heart-breaking bid for glory in the 1942 National league pennant race.

With only two games left to play, two full games behind the league-leading Cardinals and Buck (Bobo) Newsom, the insurance man they hired from the Washington Senators ready to do or die—and how!—on the mound, the pennant race can be decided by supper time this evening.

One Dodger loss and it's all over. Meanwhile out in St. Louis the Cardinals meet the Chicago Cubs in the first of their two final contests. St. Louis, after long weeks of waiting, is really in the driver's seat now, for even a postponement, for any reason whatsoever, will earn them their first flag since 1934.

Brooklyn's only hope is to win these two while the Cards lose two. In that case a play-off would be necessary, to begin in St. Louis next Monday night, best two games out of three. The teams would play the final pair of contests at Ebbets field next Wednesday and Thursday.

The whole thing was almost settled yesterday by the Boston Braves. The men of Mons. C. Stengel got off very poorly against the Brooklyn Bums at Ebbets field.

Thanks to Dolf Camilli's 26th homer Brooklyn built up a 4-1 lead in the first three innings. Max West, however, homered in the fourth to tie the score and then slammed his 16th in the eighth inning to put Boston ahead, 5-4.

Thanks to a triple by Arky Vaughan with Bordagaran on in the eighth, Brooklyn came back to tie it up in their half.

In the eleventh inning, after Ed Head, the fifth Dodger hurler had set down the Braves, Camilli drove a single off Gremp's glove, Rizzo reached first safely and Camilli second on Detweller's fielder's choice which failed. Owens sacrificed, then Pee Wee Reese was purposely passed, filling the bases.

Sisti Heave Wild

Herman then hit to Sisti, who could have nailed Dolf at the plate. The Boston second sacker, however, threw the ball high over Catcher Ernie Lombardi's head and Camilli came home with the winning run. So this afternoon, the Bums will be seeking their seventh straight desperation win.

Manager Billy Southworth is expected to send Lefty Max Lanier against the Cubs out in St. Louis. Maxie has won 13 games so far and will oppose former teammate, Lon Warneke.

Lon lost his start against St. Louis in heart-breaking fashion 1-0.

You can bet the Bums will be rooting for him today.

In the only other National league games of the day the New York Giants won from the Philadelphia Phils, 6-3, and then lost to them 9-1. Hank Leiber, outfielder of the New Yorkers made his debut as a pitcher in the night camp and was touched for nine hits.

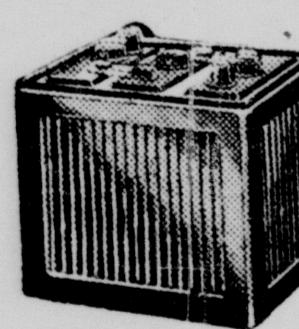

In the American league the Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland, 8-1, to put the Tribe in a tie for fourth place with the idle Detroit Tigers.

Mixed Opening Marks Market Transactions In New York Today

International News Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The stock market encountered additional profit-taking today, which carried prices a shade lower on the average after a mixed opening.

Trading was dominated by technical factors. Unusual week-end evening up was augmented by realization from traders who had registered substantial profits through the upsizing of the four preceding sessions.

Declines generally were small, and several representative stocks maintained modest gains.

Fractional declines were incurred by Anaconda, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe American Telephone, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Lockheed and Goodear.

Standard Oil of N. J. and U. S. Rubber also were firm. Rail bonds continued to give way under profit-taking after their recent sustained advance.

The curb market was mixed and quiet in a typically dull Saturday performance. American Cyanamid "B" Humble Oil and New Jersey Zinc chalked up fair sized gains. Baldwin Locomotive warrants were easier.

Huge Crowd Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 26.—Co-

lella, 26, Ellwood City, 7!

Last night's football game played at Lincoln field will go down in the records as being a Rochester victory.

It was, But only Colella struck like a bolt of lightning to dazzle a big crowd and put the game and the scrappy Wolverines to rout.

A crowd of more than 6,000 fans filled the bleachers and lined the field several deep to watch the two teams in action. Ellwood City fans saw the local machine play magnificently during the first half protecting their 7 to 6 lead, and were completely dazed when they folded almost completely, midway in the third period, against the Rams' great onslaught.

While their own team was beaten, Ellwood supporters praised Colella as being one of the best high school players ever seen here. Last year Ellwood ruined Rochester's title hopes, being the only team to stop them, and last night the Myers-coached machine returned the honor.

Ellwood Scores Early

Driving like a powerhouse, Ellwood scored early in the first period, and would have scored sooner save that they lost the ball on the Rochester 11 when Smiley fumbled.

Minutes later John H. Cartwright snatched a fumble on Rochester's 2 and in the next play Conti went through right guard to score, and added the extra point by placement. Ellwood was ahead, 7-0.

Immediately Colella went to town when he took a lateral after the touchdown kickoff from DiFrancesca and raced like mad 63 yards to score. A pass for the extra point was the score.

At half-time, the Ellwood and Rochester bands entertained with drills and marches.

Next Friday night, Ellwood will be home to Butler high school.

Another intercepted pass paved the way for Rochester's second tally half way in the third period, and Rochester had the ball on their own 45 yards to score.

Harry W. Flannery's "Assignment In Berlin," Is On Best-Seller List

Of interest to local book readers and especially to those who have read "Assignment In Berlin" is the fact that the author, Harry W. Flannery, is a cousin of Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, Highland avenue this city; and his father, J. V. Flannery, Sr., was a former New Castle resident.

Already listed among the best-sellers of the year, "Assignment In Berlin" is the latest word from the most news-censored city in the world. Mr. Flannery succeeded William L. Shirer as Berlin correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System in 1941 and his interesting observations and experiences are recorded in this educational book.

The author was born in Greensburg, Pa., in 1900. At the early age of 16 he began reporting before leaving high school. In 1923 he was graduated from Notre Dame with a degree in journalism, and then added an additional year of advanced study in English literature. While in college he was editor of four undergraduate publications.

Following graduation, he was associated with newspapers in Baltimore, Chicago, Albany, Decatur and Ft. Wayne, Ind.

For 10 years Mr. Flannery has been a radio reporter and news analyst for radio stations at Ft. Wayne and St. Louis, Mo. Since his return from Berlin, Mr. Flannery has been affiliated with the Columbus Broadcasting System along the Pacific coast and resides with his family at Los Angeles, Calif.

We must back Highland in India, but let's be sure it is done to win the war and not to save investments.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

A child has a running nose, sneezes and has watery eyes. These are the first symptoms of measles.

Such child should be put to bed and the doctor called.

There is usually a rise in temperature to 100 or 101.

A rash follows, first on the back of ears and neck.

It later spreads to the face and body.

This rash is purplish red and often comes in small blotches.

Within two days the blotches may cover the entire body.

Temperature rises and then falls as the rash disappears.

Great care is needed to keep the child from catching cold.

Lung complications of measles may prove very serious.

Measles should never be treated lightly.

AROUND CITY HALL

The office of the city O. C. D. is one of the busiest places in the city. Throughout the day it is the goal for scores of persons who want O. C. D. problems solved.

Major Charles B. Mayne has started a new practice by which he ascertains whether or not litigants who come before him are or are not working men. Whenever a defendant claims he is a worker His Honor instructs: "Let me feel your hand." Should the man have a hand covered with callouses he is discharged.

There are five hundred fire hydrants in the city according to Fire Chief J. D. Thomas. All of them are being given a coat of aluminum paint. It is the best preservative for iron, he reports. They present a much more pleasing appearance than formerly.

Many of the speed signs throughout the city are in a deplorable condition. Some of them are bent, others are rusted and additional signs need painting. Possibly they may be painted some day.

A postman making his rounds found a heap of mail in bad condition when he opened the box, but none of it was damaged beyond delivery.

"Mail boxes are something not to be tampered with," he said.

He said postal inspectors have been informed of yesterday's offense.

Corner mail boxes are not refuse receptacles and never were—but someone thought so and dropped a chocolate ice cream bar in the letter box at East Washington and County Line street yesterday.

Today Postmaster William R. Hanna warned that "malicious things like that" can bring serious repercussions, and that guilty parties could grave trouble in so doing.

"And by serious I mean serious," Hanna added.

Of Louella Parsons, Gets
Daily Hollywood Gossip

(International News Service)

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA,
Sept. 26—Doughboys here get their Hollywood news fast and they get it accurate because it's relayed to them by Major Harry Martin whose wife is Louella Parsons, filmland's best known columnist.

The major receives a letter almost daily from his wife which always contains the last word on Hollywood. In addition, Martin, who before he joined the medical corps was one of Hollywood's best known doctor's corresponds with Dorothy Lamour, Darryl Zanuck, Louis B. Mayer, Robert Young, Mervyn LeRoy, Constance Bennett, Mary Pickford, Damon Runyon, Jack Warner and others.

Life here is very different for the Doctor who had a large, private practice among film stars in Hollywood and an extremely active social life. Here he spends his evenings playing gin rummy with the sergeant and the cards he uses were given him by Robert Young. And on his dealing hand he wears a signet ring given him by Mary Pickford for luck.

Before leaving the states the famous "D" had a series of falls from his horse and has broken his ribs twenty-three times, but he continues to ride here any time he gets a chance.

The Doctor boasts that the most important rib-breaks he suffered was at the hands of Jack Dempsey with whom he used to box.

The state of Tennessee takes its name from "Tennese," which was the Indian name for the chief town of the Cherokee, which was on the Little Tennessee river.
